This mission directive prescribes the mission, organization, and functions for Air Force Reserve Command (AFRC) medical groups (MDG). Refer recommended changes and questions about this publication to the Office of Primary Responsibility (OPR) using the AF IMT 847, Recommendation for Change of Publication; route AF Form 847s from the field through the appropriate functional's chain of command. Ensure that all records created as a result of processes prescribed in this publication are maintained in accordance with Air Force Manual (AFMAN) 33-363, Management of Records, and disposed of in accordance with Air Force Records Information Management System (AFRIMS) Records Disposition Schedule (RDS) located at <https://www.my.af.mil/afrims/afrims/afrims/rims.cfm>.

SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This publication is significantly revised and must be completely reviewed.

- 1. Mission: The mission of the MDG is to provide a management support structure at parent wing locations where multiple ground medical units are assigned. It serves as the wing commander's liaison for medical activities and provides the necessary coordination and supervision of diverse, highly specialized medical resources. The MDG ensures unit mission capability and provides a singular authoritative source for the interpretation and direction of medical policy.
- 2. Command. Their structure maintains effective operations with the least expenditure of resources and organizational turbulence upon wartime mobilization.
- 3. Responsibility. Communicates directly with the active duty advisory unit/advisors on matters relating to training, inspection and safety. The MDG is the primary liaison to the active duty medical group at collocated bases.

4. Organizational Changes. Submit changes to the organizational structure to HQ AFRC/A1M, according to AFI 38-101, Air Force Organization.
